Where

Banc des Kabyles Marine Protected Area is located within the Taza National Park, in Algeria, covering a surface area of approximately 600 ha. The site is home to a large variety of marine flora and fauna, including protected and rare species. However, the area is subject to pressure from unsustainable fishing practices and pollution from tourism activities.

What to Expect

The project aims to raise awareness of the Banc des Kabyles, its natural characteristics, and conservation activities. Specific objectives include strengthening collaboration for effective management of the SPAMI and improving the preservation of the site through the promotion of ecologically responsible behavior. It also encourages stakeholders and users to engage in conservation efforts. The project includes activities such as creating awareness materials, providing training and education to local fishers and the general public, while enhancing the capacity of the SPAMI personnel and their partners for monitoring and management.

Partnerships and Resources

The mini project will be implemented by Association Écologie Sans Frontière with the support of officers from the Taza National Park and the National Coastal Commission, as well as marine biologists. Funding will be provided in part by SPA/RAC, through the SPAMI Twinning Programme, implemented under the cooperation agreement between UNEP/MAP-Secretariat of the Barcelona Convention and the Italian Ministry of Environment and Energy Security.
